HUD Awards $100 Million to Boost Housing Supply and Lower Housing Costs

In a press release yesterday, the Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) announced that it has awarded $100 million in funds to 18 grantees across 15 states under the Pathways to Removing Obstacles to Housing (PRO Housing) program.

According to the announcement, winners of the PRO Housing competition will update state and local housing plans, revise land use policies, streamline the permitting process for housing construction, and take other actions to create more housing-forward communities. Grants will also be used to preserve existing affordable housing units, provide development subsidies to create new affordable units, and increase access to homeownership.

A complete list of awardees and the amounts they will receive can be found in the press release. Additionally, HUD has created a profile for each awardee, which you can find here.
