PD&R to Hold Quarterly Update Event on Cash Assistance and Housing

HUD’s Office of Policy Development and Research (PD&R) has announced that it will be holding a quarterly update event focused on cash assistance programs and housing. According to the announcement, “across the country, guaranteed income programs are pioneering a new model of assistance to low-income households. To date, more than a hundred programs, piloted across a range of communities, have provided direct payments to local participants.” The event will bring together practitioners, government officials, researchers, and funders to better understand these guaranteed income programs and their impact on housing opportunities. Leaders of programs in Philadelphia (PHLHousing+) and Denver (Denver Basic Income Project) will share their experiences, including aspects of program design, partnership strategies, and research findings.

The quarterly update event will be held virtually and in person at HUD Headquarters in Washington, D.C on Thursday, November 16, 2023, from 2:00 to 4:00 p.m. Eastern time. For more information, click here. To register, click here.
